

A lecture put on by Leeds City Council

The Rambling Soldier - A British Redcoat's Travels

An evening lecture at Abbey House Museum, Kirkstall, Leeds on Wednesday 25th February 2004
7.30 - 9.00 p.m.

Guest lecturer, John Spencer, Museums Officer,
Duke of Wellington's Regimental Museum, Calderdale

During the Napoleonic Wars, British soldiers campaigned in far flung countries of the expanding empire as well as in the more traditional battlegrounds of the "cockpit of Europe". Share some of these experiences as John Spencer takes you on a journey with a difference.

Booking is essential.
£5.00 per person (includes a glass of wine or soft drink).
